

Is pumice sand used as the root medium for hydroponic vegetables an acceptable ingredient for compost?

Yes, pumice sand may be used as an acceptable ingredient in compost. There are no restrictions on sources of ingredients for compost—there are requirements on the method of production, use, and application of compost.

e-CFR